Red Army High Command

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
MOSCOW, July 3.—Russian defense forces still are battling Nazi siege forces in the streets of Sevastopol, the Red army high command declared today.

At the same time it was disclosed that German armies, apparently hoping to find a weak point somewhere along the extensive Russian defense line, had launched a new offensive northeast of Kharkov.

Soviet troops in the Crimea offered stubborn resistance to Nazi attempts to gain uncontested control of the Sevastopol naval base.

The German besiegers, according to the Soviet high command, also were engaged by Russian forces on the outskirts of Sevastopol.

(Hitler's headquarters on the Russian front claimed that Sevastopol had been captured Wednesday.

Heavy Battling
The noon communique said that heavy battling was in progress on the Kursk front.

The new offensive north of Kharkov, where the Germans have sought in vain to smash through for a new drive to the southeast on the caucasic oil fields, broke out over a 30-mile front approximately 40 miles above the industrial capital of the Ukraine.

The attack was launched between Bielgorod and Volchansk.

Large-scale tank battles continued to rage on the Kursk front, 115 miles north of Kharkov, where the

WAR-TIME FOURTH SEES MANY CHANGES

Compared to the July Fourth celebrations of other years, the celebration of the day tomorrow, is going to be somewhat different. No fireworks, no long motor trips, no twenty gallon crock of lemonade. Something new has been added in the form of a war and the celebration of the "Glorious Fourth" will be tame after a manner of speaking.

Folks who used to drive to the eastern shore or up to the Adirondacks on a two day vacation such as this year's Fourth is, are going to settle for a nice easy drive out to the Slippery Rock or to a camp up on the Neshannock. They will take their fireworks vicariously for a lot of boys in Egypt, Australia, New Caledonia and Midway will be shooting them off, and no two for a nickel size either.

As for that twenty gallon crock of lemonade sweetened with plenty of sugar—don't be silly. So the lemonade hounds will settle for a cooling draught of Aqua Shenango with a dash of ice.

Many New Castle people are going in to Pittsburgh for the Army show and the probabilities are that the trains will be jammed to the ventilators. The show is worth seeing as "a terrific mess".

Thousands Of Eastern Motorists Can't Get Gas

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, July 3.—The gasoline shortage in the eastern seaboard area today gave Fourth of July week-end motorists a sharp headache and evoked bitter criticism in some quarters.

Sol A. Herzog, counsel for the Eastern States Gasoline Dealers conference, representing approximately 65,000 of the 85,000 dealers in the rationed area, described the situation as "a terrific mess".

Thousands of motorists, unable to buy gas at filling stations, gave up the idea of making week-end trips to beach resorts or to the mountains.

The July gas quota, estimated to keep tanks reasonably filled for ten days, proved a mirage and motorists who thronged filling stations drove off with small allotments or none at all.

Even defense workers experienced difficulty getting gasoline. At one northern New Jersey factory several

Curtiss-Wright Officials Well Pleased With First Flight Tests

(International News Service)
COLUMBUS, O., July 3.—Curtiss-Wright officials today expressed themselves as entirely satisfied with flight tests of the newest "heli-diver," latest in a long list of Curtiss divebombers and said to be the deadliest and fastest such plane in the world.

The speed, performance and armament of the two-place, low-wing monoplane were undiscovered, but officials said the ship was "capable of carrying a larger bomb load faster and further than any dive bomber now in action in the war."

Chief test pilot Red Hulse put the craft through its paces as thousands of Curtiss-Wright workers, excused from their tasks to watch the event, craned their necks at the product of their labors. After the "heli-diver" swooped in to an easy landing, Hulse, former navy flier, termed the flight "uneventful and quite satisfactory."

FIREWORKS BANNED,

(BULLETIN)
LONDON, July 3.—Lethal explosives from British bombing planes crashed down upon the great German port and naval base of Bremen for the fifth time within a month last night when the Royal Air Force hammered northwest Germany, the air ministry announced today.

The attacking force was described by the air ministry as "powerful," but the actual number of the planes participating was not revealed.

Many large fires were started in the target areas, it was said. The official communique said that 13 of the British bombers failed to return from the attack which was carried out under weather conditions described as "good."

The German radio acknowledged that "a town in northwest Germany" had been bombed.

Fifteen Hundred Motor Police Watch Highways Over Weekend Of Fourth

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, July 3.—More than 1500 state motor policemen were assigned today to full-time accident prevention duties on Pennsylvania's highways as appeals went out to motorists to "drive carefully" over the Fourth of July week-end.

Col. Lynn G. Adams, motor police commissioner, predicted that highway traffic would assume large proportions despite tire and gasoline rationing.

"It is to be expected that notwithstanding tire shortages and gasoline rationing the vehicular traffic on our streets and highways over the Fourth of July week-end will be heavy," declared Adams, "because many people consider this as probably their last opportunity to enjoy a holiday of motoring with the possibility of national gasoline ration confronting us."

Adams warned that state police were expressly on the job "for the purpose of curtailing careless operation of motor vehicles."

In 1941, during a three-day Fourth of July holiday, 21 persons were killed on the highways and 12 others were highway accident victims in cities and boroughs.

"It is no longer just a question of conserving life and property on our highways," Adams declared, "because safe and sane motor vehicle operation is now the patriotic duty of every citizen."

He urged motorists to limit their automobile trips to vacation spots near their homes.

WILL SCRUTINIZE RENT SITUATION

Acting Area Director Says Attention To Be Devoted To Local Districts

PITTSBURGH, July 3.—Acting Area Rent Director Daniel L. Brooks today promised particular scrutiny of rents in the heavily-concentrated industrial counties surrounding Allegheny county.

Brooks particularly mentioned such communities as Duquesne, Clairton, Ambridge, Aliquippa, Donora, New Kensington, Washington, Monessen, Butler, New Castle, Greensburg and Jeanette.

"The public is entitled to rent control because it is an important weapon in the battle against inflation," Brooks said.

"There is, however, still another objective: Fair treatment of the soldier of the production line. I want personally to assure these men and women who are working so hard to produce arms for our nation that their rents are going to be stable and that their needs are not going to be neglected just because they live in outlying communities."

CAIRO, July 3.—Hurled back between three and four miles by a swift, savage British thrust, the Axis army of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel was reformed today for a renewal of major offensive action against El Alamein.

The British eighth army under command of Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck, at least temporarily gained the upper hand by repelling a sharp Axis attack upon its El Alamein positions, sending the enemy reeling back in retreat.

Yanks Raid Tobruk
Late this afternoon, it was considered certain that Rommel had resumed his efforts to smash through the British defenses along a 40-mile line from El Alamein to the Quattara depression.

United States Army fliers, meanwhile, threw in a new contribution in the battle for Suez and the middle east by participating in a major air attack on the port of Tobruk. The American pilots flew American planes whose entire personnel were from the United States. The raid was one of the heaviest yet.

Intensive Hunt Under Way For Persons In Subversive Activities In Zone

AXIS SUBMARINES WERE BEING FUELED

CARIBBEAN DEFENSE HEADQUARTERS, Canal Zone, July 3.—Intelligence officers charged with protecting the Panama Canal against sabotage and ferreting out subversive activities in the Canal Zone pressed their search today for accomplices who may have escaped the net of United States officials who smashed a spy ring known to have consisted of at least 20 persons.

Ident. Gen. Frank Andrews, commander of the Caribbean area, warned that enemies of the United States undoubtedly had others in the field to continue the operations of the 20 persons already taken into custody.

Announcement of the break-up of the huge spy ring brought with it revelations more startling than any fictional thriller on international intrigue.

Among the pawns of the ring-leaders were night club hostesses used to pry information from unsuspecting sailors and laborers. Their methods of attempting to destroy those who might disclose their activity to authorities included the poisoning of liquor to be drunk by their intended victim.

Principal among the activities of the subversive gang was the fueling of Axis submarines which have been attacking United Nations shipping.

ing and Pittsburgh will be the magnet for all of western Pennsylvania. As for those old fashioned speeches with swallow tailed orators plucking the tail feathers out of the national eagle, that idea has been on ice for some time and so far as New Castle is concerned it isn't being taken out this year.

It all adds up to the fact that this Fourth of July will probably set a new low record for the number of accidents. You can't burn your fingers from fireworks if you don't have them. You can't wreck a car when you have no tires. About the only accidents will be those of small boys who miscalculated the size of their stomachs as compared to the holiday cake.

Safe and sane is the word for this year's Fourth of July, and mostly because a trio of lugs in other countries lost what little sense they ever had. And these three look like three lads looking for an accident to happen.

THOUSANDS OF EASTERN MOTORISTS CAN'T GET GASOLINE

hundred persons were kept away from their jobs for lack of transportation.

Herzog, counsel for the small retailers, said many independent retailers are going out of business. He said the big supplying companies are taking them over and manning the small filling stations with their personnel.

Situation Is Mess
"The whole situation is a mess," said Herzog. "It's a needless interruption of normal life. Both the public and the retail dealers are getting a rooking."

Herzog contended the gasoline situation "has been bungled from the start."

"Today, all over the eastern area, you see lines of motorists trying to get gasoline," he said. "Yet, in certain sections of the area filling stations have more gas than they can sell. In places like New York, Portland, Me., Newark, Philadelphia and elsewhere you find trouble getting gas. But get back into the fringe of the rationed area—say in central Pennsylvania, upper New York, in certain sections of North and South Carolina, Virginia and Georgia—and you'll find they have gas."

"Their quota is based on 50 per cent of what they sold last July. They sold this gas a year ago to people who were able to get out to the country from the populous regions. Now these motorists have to stay at home. It's a vicious circle. No gas in some sections of the area, more than they can dispose of in other sections."

Thus, artificially and arbitrarily, both a shortage and a surplus has been created in regions 150 miles from each other.

Herzog said that considering the area as a whole there isn't enough gasoline to fill the ration cards which have been issued by the government.

"The motorist in the eastern area feels he has been unfairly discriminated against," said Herzog, "because, outside of Oregon and Washington, there is no rationing anywhere in the United States."

BRITISH AGAIN BLAST BREMEN

many" had been bombed during the night but said that the raid was "without effect."

Force Of 300 Or More
The loss of 13 British planes would indicate that a force of at least 300, and possibly more, took part in the Bremen raid. This is based on a proportional percentage losses during previous large-scale RAF assaults.

A total of 52 craft were lost when more than 1,000 planes attacked the "Queen City" of the Reich exactly a week ago.

Bremen, second largest German port, is industrially as well as commercially important. It is situated on the Weser river, 46 miles inland from the North sea, and is linked to major industrial areas by Germany's best rail lines. The port has more than 18 miles of docks. Besides other ship building facilities in the port one of Germany's largest submarine construction plants is operated there.

The continued pounding of Bremen marks a high point in the British plan to completely level all war production factories in every industrial center of the Reich.

The first large-scale attack in the recent campaign against Bremen was made June 4. The assault by more than 1,000 planes last Thursday night was followed by one on Saturday and another again Sunday.

JAPANESE BASE AGAIN POUNDED

tralian north coast base. It is one of the most important enemy supply depots in this area.

This Japanese base was one of the six bombed in the previous series of raids reported in Thursday's communiqué. Other points attacked were Kendari on the southeast tip of Celebes, Salamaua and Lae on New Guinea, and Bougainville and Tulagi in the Solomon Islands.

United Nations headquarters warned against overestimating the importance and purpose of the recent bombings of the enemy's strongholds on the islands fringing the Australian continent. The results were declared to be encouraging but the raids do not constitute a major offensive effort, it was said.

The present air offensive could be likened to a boxer's jab—they do not inflict a knockout blow but they do soften up the opponent for the final haymaker. They also keep the opponent off balance and prevent him from getting set to start a knockout punch in your direction.

built a tiny auto, powered by a washing machine motor, which gets him about at a speed of 20 miles an hour, and uses only a gallon of gas each 70 miles. It does not need any inspection sticker, and operates on a motorcycle license. The big problem is tires but the car has only three wheels. One of the tires he got from a wheelbarrow, while the other two are small airplane tires.

With farmers in the midst of the wheat and hay harvest season, there will probably be little vacationing on the farms on the Fourth. In many of the industries work will proceed as usual, also, in order not to hamper war production.

Rails are being lifted from the public square, and soon the downtown section will be free of trolley tracks. It seems only a few years since the greatest kind of a verbal battle was being waged in city hall as to whether or not the street car company would be given a perpetual franchise for tracks in the loop through the diamond.

All this talk about rubber shortages, horse and buggy days, etc., reminds an old timer that there was a time not so long since, when waiting troughs were a feature on many streets in the city. Croton avenue, Grant street, and other thoroughfares, and even the public square the drinking fountain for horses was located in front of the Fountain Inn hotel.

NO FIREWORKS FOR CELEBRATION OF JULY FOURTH

army regulations. He added such displays and large gatherings of Fourth of July celebrants offered opportunity for token air raids and saboteurs to cause confusion and possible damage.

Acting on General Terry's warning, Mayor F. H. La Guardia ordered police to arrest all persons selling fireworks in the city and governor Herbert H. Lehman asked all cities in the state to cooperate. So far as New York City and its suburbs was concerned, automobile travel was out. There just wasn't any gas. The Atlantic states, generally, felt the pinch of gas rationing and the rest of the country was saving its tires.

The Greyhound Bus Lines, largest operators in the district flatly advised prospective bus travelers in paid advertisements "Don't make bus trips during this holiday if you can avoid it."

The Pennsylvania Railroad reported that holiday travel probably would be "the biggest on record" for a Fourth of July and that Pullman accommodations and reserved seats in coaches had been sold out two weeks ago.

The railroads will not run as many extra trains as in former years but a few more cars will be added to every train. Some commuter cars will be shifted to long hauls and an attempt will be made to carry everybody who wants to travel.

One optimistic anticipation was a lessening in road accidents for Fourth of July customarily produces a heavy death and injuries toll but tire and gas rationing are expected to cut it sharply.

With fireworks also out of the picture, this may be the safest and sanest Fourth the nation has seen in years.

GERMAN ARMIES SEEK WEAK POINT ON SOVIET FRONT

German armies were thrown back to the original positions after a futile attempt to pierce the Soviet line.

It was said that no material changes took place on other sectors.

In a supplement to the regular communiqué the Red Army said that the Soviet air force on Wednesday had destroyed several dozen German tanks and 300 trucks laden with troops. Four battalions of enemy infantry were "partly annihilated" in the action, it was said, although the locality was not given.

Soviet tank crews on the southwestern front were credited with killing 1,000 Germans on Thursday in a battle in which 16 Nazi tanks were disabled.

CAIRO REPORT SAYS AXIS IS FORCED BACK

sent the mechanized German and Italian forces reeling in retreat west of El Alamein.

The Axis armored columns were smashed back after having advanced to within 70 miles of the British eastern Mediterranean naval base at Alexandria.

"A general attack on El Alamein July 2 was repulsed," the middle east high command announced.

"The enemy suffered losses and withdrew to the west."

"The British positions remain intact."

Drive Is Halted
The headlong eastward drive of the German and Italian armored units was brought to an abrupt halt when the British defense line based on El Alamein held firm in the face of two strong Axis assaults.

The British, countered with a flanking movement that threatened to crush the Axis legions. Part of the army was sent around the Axis southern flank to pound the enemy from the rear.

The surprise British maneuver was effective just as German General Marshal Erwin Rommel, the "desert fox" commander of Hitler's Afrika Korps, began a second large-scale attack against British positions at the northern end of the 35-mile desert defense line.

Caught Naps Unaware
Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck, commander of all British forces in the middle east, through this move appeared to have caught Rommel unaware. By doing a little "fixing" himself, Gen. Auchinleck placed his forces in an advantageous position for the initial assault on the Axis.

"The British commander timed his attack to an hour when Rommel was most likely to strike, late in the afternoon when the sun shone in the eyes of Gen. Auchinleck's defense forces. By swinging part of his army to Rommel's rear Auchinleck forced the Germans and Italians to fight with faces turned to the sun."

Defense forces based on El Alamein stood fast in the face of the renewed Axis attack and sent out a terrific barrage of artillery fire as the British flanking forces, strongly equipped with every type of weapon, began a full-scale attack at Rommel's rear.

60,000 Men In Battle
An estimated 60,000 men were locked in the furious battling center of the El Alamein collapse, of which would free Rommel's forces from the bottleneck extending from the Mediterranean coast 35 miles southward to the salt marshes of the Qattara depression. Once beyond this point Rommel would have comparatively clear sailing in a march upon the naval base of Alexandria, the Nile Delta and Suez.

Rommel at one point in the battle himself had designs on a flanking movement between the south-western end of the defense line and the salt marshes and sent a force of tanks stealing along the extreme tip of the Qattara depression. These were confronted by strong units of American "Honey" tanks and six-pound guns. They turned flat in the face of this charge and fled to the north behind their own infantry.

Military observers said that the results of the battling still were inconclusive but it was obvious that Rommel's headlong drive to conquer Egypt had been stopped, whether temporarily or permanently remains to be seen.

Only Temporary Gain
The middle east command disclosed that the Axis smashed through the defenses at one time during Rommel's first thrust but held the gains only temporarily before being driven back.

The Axis capitals have issued claims, and struck to them, that their forces had passed beyond El Alamein and that the British were retreating toward the Nile. The Italian high command claims that El Alamein was in Axis hands.

The battling throughout yesterday swayed back and forth across the desert wastes along the coast as Rommel concentrated his forces for a large-scale attack against El Alamein proper. The German commander used Italian units for the spearhead of his attack while the British positions with his heaviest artillery.

The Royal Air Force, it ranks augmented by units of the United States Army Air Corps, brought into use every available plane to assist the defending ground forces.

Huge American-made Boston bombers as well as Liberators consolidated B-24's and Wellingtons, worked overtime bombing Axis motorized transport columns and troops concentrations.

Kittyhawks wrought havoc through dive-bombing attacks in the Axis line, throwing many of the troops into panic by repeated pourings.

Berlin, July 3.—(By official German wireless)—The German high command claimed today that Axis forces "in a widening gap" have broken through British positions around El Alamein and stormed a number of strongly fortified positions.

INDEPENDENCE DAY

In this year of our greatest war, Independence Day takes on a deeper meaning. Whether we shall continue to enjoy the freedom of thought, speech and action that has been our privilege for 166 years depends upon our ability to defend it.

Victory Meeting Planned For Cathedral Sunday Evening

Victory Rally In Cathedral Sunday Evening

Dr. Voyta Benes, Czechoslovakian Senator, Will Be Chief Speaker

COMBINE PATRIOTIC, EVANGELISTIC SERVICE

"A Rally for Victory" will be the theme of a combined evangelistic rally and patriotic service to be conducted in the Scottish Rite Cathedral on Sunday evening at 7:45 o'clock. The first New Castle Ministerial Association, Cascade Park service was to have been held this Sunday with Captain Carl Andreassen in charge, but the Association and Salvation Army have graciously consented to unite with the special James A. Stewart evangelistic services at the Cathedral Sunday evening.

Special speaker at this service will be Dr. Voyta Benes, a member of the Czechoslovak senate. His brother, Dr. Edouard Benes, Czechoslovakian president, is now in London and working in co-operation with Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

Senator Benes was a minister of education for Czechoslovakia before Hitler's conquest of that country. He is a fluent speaker and has an amazing story to tell of his flight from Poland to France, where he was hunted by the Gestapo. He has been working with his brother, his subject will be "Czech Resistance to Nazi Oppression." He will also speak about Heinrich, Hitler's hangerman, and tell of the tragedy of the slaying of the whole male population of two Bohemian villages. Through secret service agents, Dr. Benes is in constant touch with conditions in his country. After the last session with President and Mrs. Wilson concerning the reconstruction of Europe.

Rev. James A. Stewart of Great Britain, the evangelist in the present United Churches Campaign, will give the closing message and pray for the success of the United Nations. American, British, Greek, Polish and Czechoslovakian flags will be displayed.

Captain Andreassen will conduct a short patriotic service when prayers will be offered for men of New Castle in their country's service, and for their mothers. Music is to be provided by a mass choir of 200 voices and a 50-piece band from local churches.

Due to limited seating capacity, it was necessary to turn many people away from the evangelistic rally in the First Christian church last Sunday evening where Mr. Stewart spoke. As no church building in New Castle is large enough to accommodate the crowds attending the services, the Sunday service is being held in the Cathedral.

Evangelistic meetings, with Mr. Stewart as the speaker, will enter the fourth week in the First Baptist church Monday evening. Mr. Stewart originally came to this city to speak in the Maitland Memorial Primitive Methodist church under the sponsorship of the Union Young People's Prayer Band.

East Brook Church Starting Revival

Rev. Andrew Johnson, D. D. Ph. D., general evangelist and member of the Kentucky Conference of the Methodist church, will be the speaker at the East Brook Methodist church revival to begin Monday, July 6, and to continue over Sunday, July 12.

Dr. Johnson has had a wide experience in the evangelistic field, having conducted over 750 revivals in 42 states and Canada.

At the First Congregational church, Sunday evening, at 7:30, the War Service Roll of the church, which carries the names of members and relatives of members of the church, now in the U. S. ## Busy Days Ahead For Girl Scouts

Two Weeks Of Day Camping Starts At Cascade Park, July 6; Ends July 17

Monday, July 6, marks the beginning of two busy weeks for local Brownies and Girl Scouts, who will be attending day camp at Cascade park.

All girls going via bus that have to transfer will do it at the corner of Mill and Washington streets, where there will be girls wearing girl scout badges to assist them.

Daily Dozen

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

"He who doctors himself has a fool for a patient." Self-medication is an unsafe, unsatisfactory practice. A few medicines taken intelligently may cause no danger. Too often these are taken in excessive amounts.

Cathartics and laxatives are the most harmful. Continual use of laxatives abuses nature's functioning.

Many healthy persons form a habit of taking laxatives. Sedatives, when used regularly, can do much harm.

Some sedatives, containing barbiturate, cause mental disorder. Sonny had a stomach pain—Mother gave him a laxative. Sonny is now in the hospital with a ruptured appendix.

Dear Brother Lion: Sgt. John L. Dean, local recruiting officer for the Marines, will show us Marine films at our regular luncheon next Tuesday.

This being the first meeting with King Lion Winter in charge, let us have a good attendance for him. Yours for a bigger sale of War bonds and stamps, THOMAS I. ELLIOTT, Secretary.

PRESIDING ELDER AT LOCAL CHURCH SUNDAY

Rev. R. G. Fraker, the presiding elder, will preach in the United Brethren church, located on North Crawford avenue, on this Sunday evening, July 5. This will be the fourth quarterly conference of the year.

Australia To Hail Fourth

(International News Service)
MELBOURNE, July 3.—Celebrations in honor of American independence day began in Melbourne today with an official luncheon and a rally of 1,600 school children at the Princess theatre, where Mrs. Douglas MacArthur sang the Star Spangled Banner.
Shop window displays, and radio broadcasts tomorrow will serve to illustrate the feeling of kinship and goodwill between Australians and Americans.
Australian Air Minister Arthur S. Drakeford asserted that Pacific strategy had made Australia the most important base from which to deal with Japan and that Australia looked to America to furnish a large measure of the supplies with which the Allied forces could surely hurl back the enemy.
"I know Australia will not look to America in vain," he said, "Australians and Americans have stood together in the far flung battle zones, ready and willing to make the supreme sacrifice to protect the sacred rights and liberties inherent in the system of political democracy government common to the United States and Australia."

Clubs Await Talk Of Czech Leader

Rotary Invites Kiwanis, Others To Hear President's Kin Monday

New Castle Rotarians and Kiwanis and members of other service clubs will hear Dr. Votja Benes, brother of President Edouard Benes of Czechoslovakia, at a joint luncheon program in The Castleton Monday noon.

Rotary arranged to hear Dr. Benes during its regular noon meeting, but extended the welcome to others because of the significance of the Chicago man's talk. Kiwanis immediately accepted and cancelled its own July 8 meeting. Other clubs expect to have representatives in attendance.

The brother of the famed Czech president is a member of the Czechoslovakian senate and is coming to New Castle to address a combined evangelistic and patriotic service of New Castle churches in the Cathedral Sunday night.

He will remain over to address the clubs' luncheon and for an informal visit.

PHILADELPHIA, July 3.—At midnight tonight, traditional pealing of the Tower bell in hallowed Independence Hall will herald the arrival of America's most sacred holiday—the Fourth of July.
Four guards will toll the bell once, nine times four times and then twice to signify the year. Then 166 chimes will ring out to mark the anniversary of the Declaration of Independence.
The Tower bell, not to be confused with the Liberty bell enshrined inside the hall, was cast from old guns used in four wars. It weighs 13,000 pounds.

Quick Justice For Saboteurs Is Promised

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Promising swift justice in the fight against spies and saboteurs in wartime America, President Roosevelt on Thursday established a seven-man military commission composed of U. S. army general to try the eight Nazi saboteurs captured by the FBI after they were landed on American shores by German U-boats.

The military commission, it was reported, will have power to send the eight men, two of them U. S. citizens, before firing squads if they are convicted.

At the same time, Mr. Roosevelt, in the order setting up the military court, denied the right of civil trial to all enemies who have entered the U. S. since outbreak of the war for the purpose of committing hostile acts against the government. This meant that the trial of the eight saboteurs would set the precedent for action in all similar cases in the future.

Swift action was promised when Mr. Roosevelt instructed the military proceedings to begin in Washington on July 8—only five days from today. The eight men are now held by the FBI in New York but will be brought here for trial.

Under the procedure set up by the president, two-thirds of the members of the court can vote conviction of the men. But Mr. Roosevelt reserved final judgment for the White House. He said:

"The record of the trial including any judgment or sentence shall be transmitted directly to me for my action thereon."

The eight Nazi saboteurs, according to the FBI have confessed that they were landed in the United States with specific instructions to dynamite vital aluminum plants and key railroad and communication centers. It was reported that they carried plans for sabotage acts intended to cripple or completely halt U. S. plane production.

This was the first time that a military commission has been set up in Washington since 1865, when a similar agency was created to try those implicated in the assassination of President Lincoln. It marked the creation of the first commission of its kind in either the first world war or the present conflict.

Announcement of the arrest of the eight Nazi saboteurs was made by the FBI only last Saturday night. Plans for their trial were immediately made in a series of conferences between Attorney General Biddle and Secretary of War Stimson. The attorney general and the secretary of war recommended to the president that the military commission be set up and Mr. Roosevelt acted quickly.

Electric Meter Reading Plan To Be Changed

Meters Will Be Read Only
Every Other Month During War Period

As a part of its program to save vital materials needed in the war effort, the Pennsylvania Power company has announced that residential and most commercial electric meters will hereafter be read every other month instead of monthly as in the past.

Thousands of miles must be driven by meter readers each month, particularly in the rural districts, to obtain the regular meter readings. Since in most cases electric consumption in the average residence and commercial establishment varies only moderately from month to month, bills can be rendered each month even though the meter reading is secured only every other month. For the month in which the meter is not read, the company will render a bill based on the electric user's average use during the preceding two months.

When the meter is read the second month, the bill rendered will be based on the actual meter reading, less a credit for the bill rendered the previous month when the meter was not read. Since the bill is thus automatically adjusted every other month, the new procedure will not cause any inconvenience to the electric users, and a substantial saving of automobile mileage is accomplished.

The primary purpose of the proposed method of the saving of vital materials, although it is anticipated that other economies will be effected. According to the company's management, such economies are vitally necessary during this period when operating expenses and taxes are being drastically increased. Every phase of the company's operations is being scrutinized to determine where increased economies can be effected without inconvenience to the public or injury to the present standard of service.

Maybe Safe And Sane 4th Is Better Reporter Thinks After Learning Of "Old Days"

"Kids today don't have much fun on the Fourth," complained the Old Timer, as the neighborhood gang ran by shooting cap pistols. "Of course, not as many of them will land in the hospital from fireworks," conceded the Old Timer, "so maybe that makes it even. But we sure had ourselves a time on the Fourth," he said reminiscently.

And if half of his tales are true, back around 1900 the kids certainly did have themselves a time on the Fourth of July. If things were as wild as they sounded, the adults must have hidden somewhere and kept out of the way.

Long Siege
The fireworks usually started at midnight of the 3rd and kept right up until every last kid in the city had shot each and every firecracker he could lay his hands on. And fireworks, the Old Timer remembered, were cheaper in those days. "Why 25c or 50c would buy enough to last you a whole morning," he said.

One of the favorite tricks of the turn of the century children was a Roman candle duel. Two of the boys would get 30 or 40 feet apart and start shooting Roman Candles at each other. "Many's the burn that has come from that," said the Old Timer. "I mind one day when one boy's clothing caught fire and he was nearly burned to death."

The boys used to have fun with the car tracks and sky rockets, too, according to the Old Timer. "Of course, it was a little dangerous, but that didn't worry us." They would go down to the Diamond and shoot the rockets up West Washington street or Jefferson street in the car tracks. Once in a while the rockets would leave the tracks and "then, somebody might get burned a little," said the Old Timer.

Other Tricks
Another favorite trick of our particular Old Timer was to hang around out by Joe Hannon's tin shop looking innocent as the girls passed by and then seeing how close he could toss a firecracker to the girls' skirts without touching them. "Boy, they sure used to jump," he said reminiscently.

Instruments of juvenile noise making that must have brought terror to the hearts of adults were described by the Old Timers. Among them were canes fitted for dynamite caps, home-made lead pipe cannons to be charged with black powder and a mixture of sulphur and chlorate of potash to explode on street car tracks.

There was a lot of fun on the Fourth in the old days—wild, dangerous, hilarious fun. But the burns, cuts, damaged eyes and lost fingers made it very expensive.

And all the noise must have been awfully wearing on the nerves. But after all, we of today, with our cap pistols which make the Old Timer laugh, but do not fill hospitals with scared and maimed little bodies, are better off.

for War Production

than all these three together!

Adolf, Hirohito and Benito probably aren't sleeping well these nights. They know that America's great and growing war production must inevitably turn the tide against them.

America can do it because America has the electric power to do it. Electric power is basic to production. Electric power multiplies man-power and drives the machines that make tanks, ships, planes, and guns.

How much power has America? More than the three uneasy dictators and all their conquered countries combined—Albania, Austria, Belgium, Bulgaria and the rest of the long tragic list. Five times more than we had in the last war.

No other nation even approaches America's power resources. And this largely has been accomplished the American way—by electric companies owned by millions of Americans and managed by American business men.

This vast growth, this extensive power capacity, is one result of our one hundred sixty-six years of freedom. On this 166th anniversary of the first FOURTH OF JULY, America's electric companies are working day and night to meet the demands of this new war which threatens our American Independence. . . .

"Niagara", of War of 1812, Reconstructed

Photos by Penna. Department of Commerce

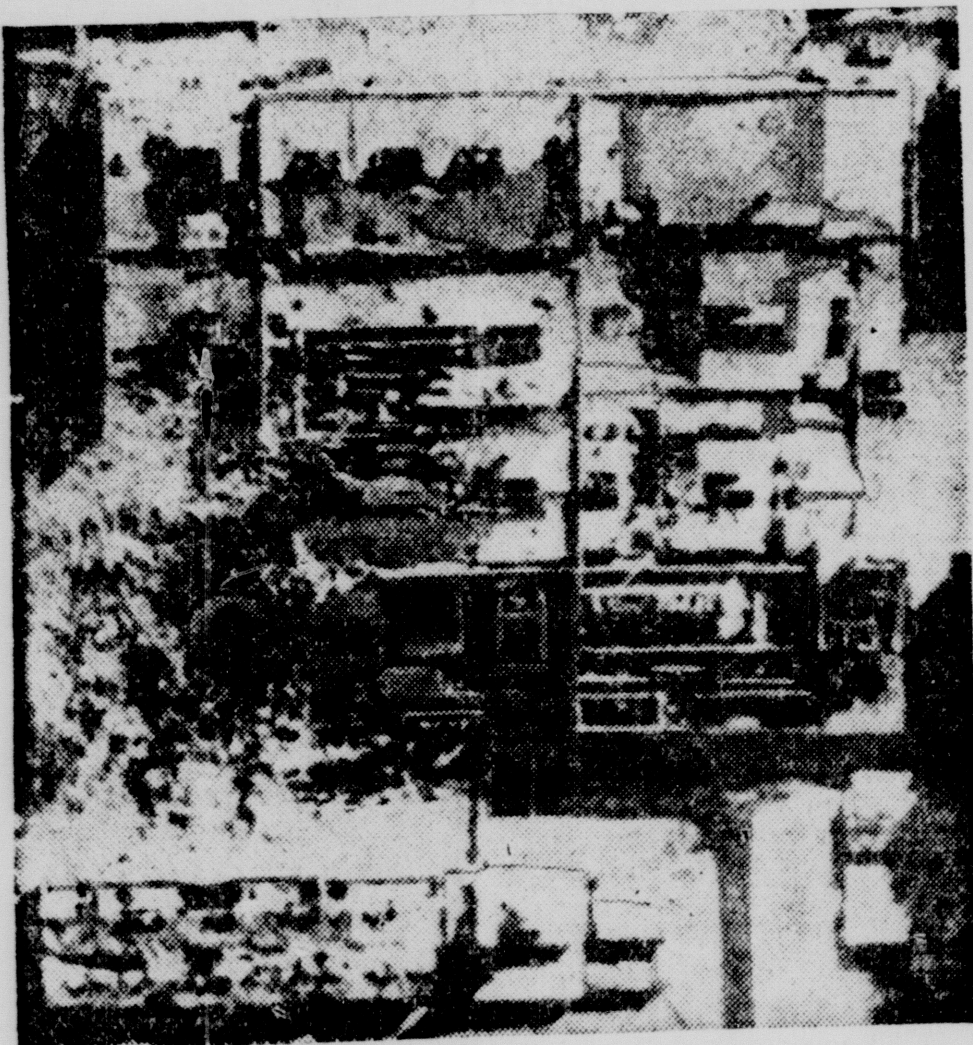

Reconstructed again, the famous, old "Niagara" will find a permanent berth on the Lake Erie waterfront. The vessel was Commodore Perry's flagship in the Battle of Lake Erie. It was reconstructed and made a trip on the lake in 1913—the 100th anniversary of the battle. But it fell into decay. Now the second reconstruction process is about completed. It will be fitted with masts, the old cannon and other accoutrements. Inset, photo shows ship as it appeared under sail in 1913.

There Must Be Some Mistake

An American soldier driving along a road in Darwin, Australia, recently ran into this bewildering sign on the post at the right. He thought for a moment that he was seeing things, but when he got out to investigate the placard did read "Los Angeles City Limits." It was learned later that a member of the A.E.F. tacked it up, probably after trying to find the movie capital's real limit. (Central Press)

A Couple of 158's Get Together

Aviation cadet Peter Stankiewicz rubs the side of training plane 158 at Kelly Field, Texas. He feels it will bring him luck since he was one of the 6,000 holders of that number who drew first call in the draft in Oct. 1940. He was inducted into the coast artillery, but recently switched to pilot training and is now attending the pre-flight school at Kelly Field. (Central Press)

AUCHINLECK STRIVES TO KEEP ENEMY FROM SUEZ

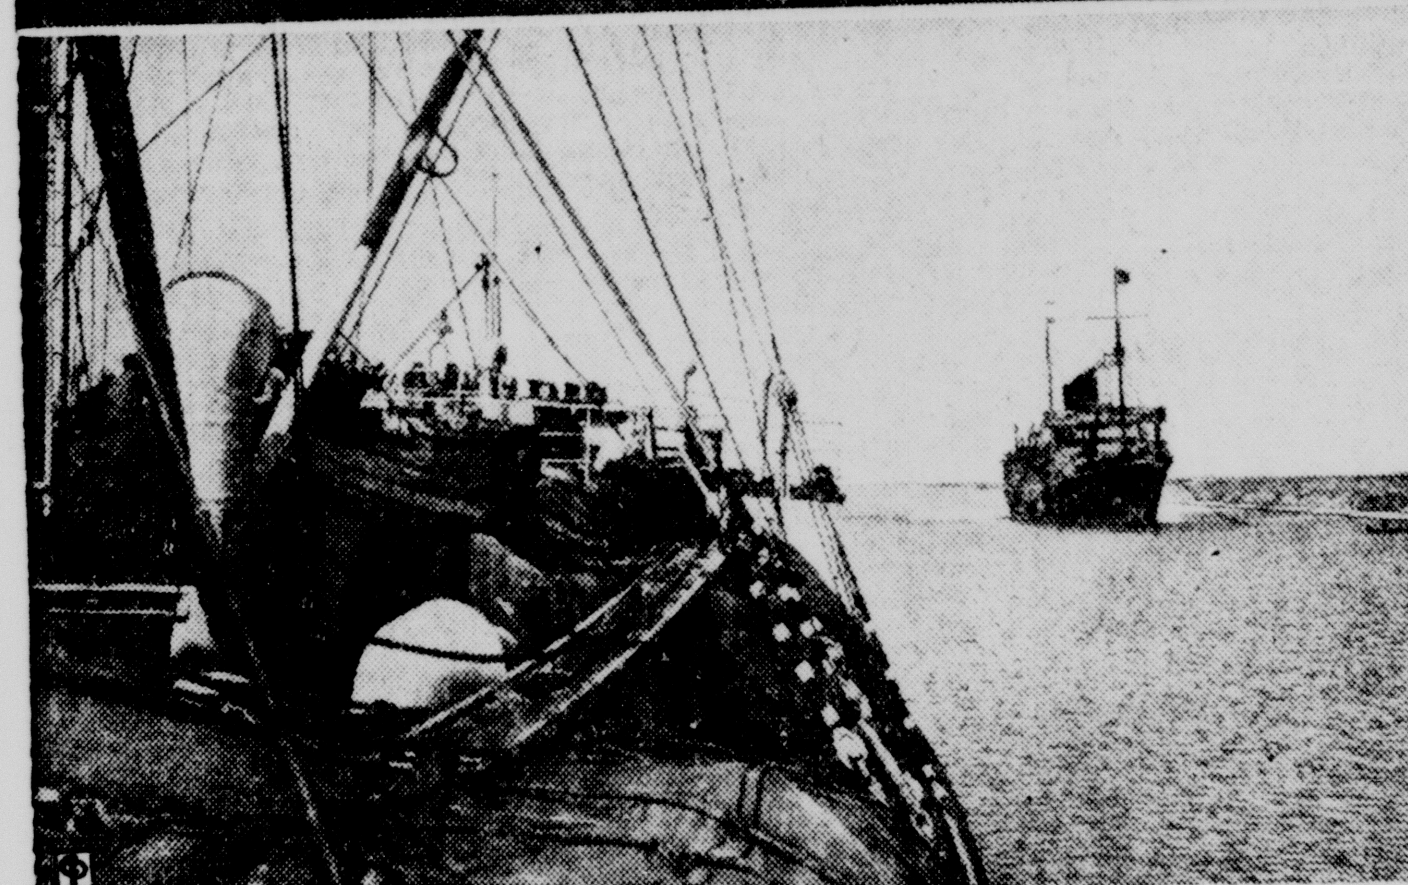

Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck

Field Marshal Erwin Rommel

Apparently hoping to hold Nazi Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's German and Italian divisions along a line extending southward from El Alamein, indicated on the map above, Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck is pouring all available Allied forces into the intensifying Battle of Egypt. Success of the defense would prevent the Axis from gaining control of the Suez canal, the big Alexandria naval base and the entire eastern Mediterranean. Auchinleck is pictured, upper left; Rommel, at upper right.

SUEZ CANAL TO BE DESTROYED IF AXIS GAINS IT

REVEAL NEW U. S. NAVAL BASE

The United States Navy has revealed for the first time that a huge American naval base has been constructed at Londonderry, Northern Ireland, although existence of the base has been a widely-known "secret" for months. The base is the largest American naval establishment outside the United States, with the exception of Pearl Harbor. Soldiers and sailors are pictured in the cablephoto above as they chatted on the stern of a destroyer. Two other destroyers can be seen in the background.

A geysir of water 100 ft. high shoots upward as a depth charge dropped from a Fairmile, one of the Canadian Navy's new sub-chasers, somewhere off Quebec. The explosive power of Canada's new depth charges is so terrific that a sub can now be put out of commission blown up over twice the area possible six months ago. The speedy sub-chasers are being used to escort outward bound convoys on the Lawrence River. This is the first official picture of Canadian sub-killers. (Central Press)

Red Sox Gunning For Yank Scalps; Foes Clash Today

Current Series May Hold Answer To A. L. Winner; Cleveland Tops Chicago

BEAZLEY CONQUERS PITTSBURGH BUCCOS

(International News Service) NEW YORK, July 3.—Boston and New York square off today in the beginning of a three-game series that may hold the answer to the eventual winner of the American league pennant. The Red Sox now are trailing the Yankees by three games, but a full-time win in the current engagement would give the Crimson Hose an even break as the season hurries by the Fourth of July.

Baseball's time-worn adage says that the team leading the race when the sun sets on Independence Day will win the bunting.

At any rate, Art Fletcher, directing the Yankees, in the absence of the ailing Joe McCarthy, will fling Spud Chandler against the swirling Sox. In return, Manager Joe Cronin, of the Sox, is expected to send Charlie Wagner out to do the crucial mound duties for him. The tilt is a twilight set.

Ted Williams, fined $250 yesterday by Cronin for loafing on the job as left fielder for the Red Sox, may be the gent to turn the tide for his mates. Williams is repentant following being disciplined and he may go to bat with the full fury of the swing that allowed him to hit .406 last season.

In the only game played yesterday afternoon, Detroit climbed aboard St. Louis for a 5 to 4 victory. Johnny Niggling suffered his seventh loss of the season during the defeat, while Al Benton scored his sixth triumph.

Indians Win, 7-5
In a game staged for the Army and Navy relief funds, a crowd of 23,662 paid $33,332 to see the Cleveland Indians defeat the Chicago White Sox 7 to 5 in a night game at Chicago. The receipts established a new high for Army-Navy benefit games by American league clubs. The Indians battered Joe Humphries and Joe Haynes for 13 hits to score their victory while Chubby Dean held the White Sox to three hits before blowing up in the ninth. He was relieved by Joe Heving who in turn was replaced by Harry Eisenstat who finally checked the

Croton A. C. Girds For Next Loop Race

Manager Anthony Colulica of the Croton A. C. today briefly outlined plans for a second half drive which he hopes will lead to the championship of the City Baseball league.

Eliminated from the first half race the Crotonites are already preparing for the next jaunt. The Colulica-coached brigade will practice and continue to drill in hopes of finding an aggregation capable of cleaning house.

Next week Croton faces the Ellwood City Socials twice, on Wednesday and on Friday. Effective Monday, the hill team will drill nightly.

Any player desiring a tryout is asked to get in touch with Mr. Colulica at the Duce Delgi Abruzzi hall, Croton avenue.

Elders Prepared For W. Pittsburg

O'Learymen Will Gain Tie For First Half Title By Emerging Triumphant

Determined to gain a tie for first half City Baseball league championship by emerging victorious, the Elders A. C. anxiously awaits the invasion of West Pittsburg tonight at 6 o'clock on Marshall field, Scott street.

Saddled in first place by a mere half game, the Elders will be forced to share the spotlight with the Moose if they lose to the "Gashouse Gang."

For the crucial setto, Manager Joe O'Leary today intimated that Dory Gunnert, his act twirler, will get the nod. The veteran right-hander today ranks as the top moundsman in the loop. "Blackie" Fundoots, pilot of the fiery West Pittsburgers, refused to give as much as a hint regarding his pitching selection.

The Elders already own two league triumphs over West Pittsburg, 14-8 and 12-4.

After tonight's struggle the Elders gird for the first half finale with the strong Moose.

Armstrong Is 2-1 Favorite To Win

(International News Service) DENVER, July 3.—Hammering Henry Armstrong, evidently taken seriously in his warning that he can't afford to drop any decisions during his comeback campaign, today was a 2 to 1 favorite—with few takers—to defeat Denver's Reuben Shank tonight.

The little Los Angeles Negro welterweight will weigh in at 144 pounds, three less than Shank, for the scheduled 10-round clash in City Auditorium. Shank split two decisions with Fritz Zivic in Minneapolis recently. Zivic lifted Armstrong's welter crown.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Friday stuff 'n' things:—

The wrestling club being formed at the Y. M. C. A. by "Bill" Winters will be tutored by one of the most competent hands in the state. The local teacher, Nick George, formerly held the Pennsylvania crown in his weight class and once finished second in the U. S. Olympic tryouts.

Here for the City-County all-star game, Joe Brehany, a Pittsburgh Pirate scout, unfurled a lot of flowery remarks regarding Lawrence County's younger baseball talent. While the diatribe was not prepared for the push into the higher and faster loops, their chances are encouraging, Brehany pointed out.

This leads me to don the spotlight on Carmen DeLoone, prexy of the circuit, who is really giving these kids a chance by undertaking the sponsoring end of the circuit. With the innumerable encumbrances brought about by the war, Carm went ahead because "these kids deserve an opportunity to play and develop themselves."

During a few leisure moments, Privates Fred Maciarello and Dante Fusco, U. S. Marine men on guard duty in Philly, took pen in hand to send greetings to Lawrence County's sports gang. They report doing well and hope that "everything is well in New Castle."

With the Yankees on the skids, that "break up the Yankees" cry has been shelved until the Bombers start to click—if they ever do again this season. Contrast—During the 1941 season, Thornton Lee pitched 300 innings and won 21 games for the Chicago White Sox. This semester, the lefty hasn't even thrown a ball.

This Yankee slump is so bad that some of the players can't even go to the right station. "Red" Rolfe and Joe Gordon went to the wrong station and rejoined their mates shortly before the start of the Athletic game. Is everything well in the Pittsburgh managerial department? Just asking.

Vito Tamulis can expect another major league call if he continues his sensational mound performances in the Southern association. Thus far, Vito has won 11 games for Nashville.

New York pilots are against a traveling world series. Why wouldn't they? A few other cities would get that hotel, taxi, night club, food, etc., business.

Durocher Gives Starting Lineup For Star Contest

Mort Cooper, Of St. Louis Cardinals, Likely Starter On Mound For Nationals

By JACK MAHON

(International News Service) NEW YORK, July 3.—Having consulted his favorite crystal ball, several different kinds of tea leaves and a couple of palm readers—in between quick glances at his racing form—Leo (The Lip) Durocher broke down and admitted today that this is the probable starting lineup for the National League All-Stars for their annual picnic with the American League's best at the Polo Grounds, Monday.

Brown, St. Louis, 2b; Vaughan, Brooklyn, 3b; Reiser, Brooklyn, cf; Mize, New York 1b; Ott, New York, rf; Medwick, Brooklyn, 1b; Miller, Boston, ss; Owen, of Cooper, c. The pitcher will not be revealed, till game time but most of the experts who came in out of the rain last night believed that Mort Cooper of the Cards will get the nod. If he does, of course, his brother, Walker, will be behind the plate.

If any one of the other favored hurlers, Cliff Melton of the Giants; Claude Passeau of the Cubs; Johnny Vander Meer of the Reds or Whit Wyatt of the Dodgers is selected by mastermind Durocher, it is believed Mickey Owen will start behind the plate.

General-Richards To Ump Elder Game

Leo Hill today announced that Clem General and "Tex" Richards have been named to umpire tonight's important game between the Elders A. C. and West Pittsburg, slated for Marshall field, starting at 6.

(International News Service) ST. PAUL, Minn., July 3.—A $1,000 bundle of war bonds will be handed the winner of the St. Paul open golf tournament at Keller course July 30-Aug. 2. It was announced today, and all proceeds will go toward the purchase of field equipment for the Army.

Heading the pack of links stars expected for the annual tournament, is Horton Smith, defending champion and winner of the open in 1931. Further down the prize list, $100 in war bonds will be given to the leading Minnesota pros.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Reports from Pittsburgh assert Frankie Moran, local lightweight, and Russell Baxter, local middleweight, will make their professional debut Monday night in Pittsburgh in preliminary bouts of four rounds duration. It has been known for some time that Baxter has hankered for a whirl in the pro' game, but not Moran.

One statement made locally was to the effect that Moran was quitting the amateur game because he could not obtain amateur bouts. This is incorrect. There are many amateur fighters who would fight him. However, he has had a very bad hand, yet has it, and he also has a nose ailment that has not been cleared. These reasons are why he voluntarily stopped boxing for a time.

He had a finger broken and, if broken again, may put him out of the boxing game for good. His nose was injured months ago and every time he receives a hard blow on it, the nose blocks. He then is required to breathe through his mouth. Personally, we believe he should have these defects remedied before he delves into the faster game where five-ounce gloves, not eight-ounce gloves, are used.

The next boxing show will be an amateur affair at Taggart stadium July 21 and will be held under the auspices of the Jefferson A. C. for the benefit of the civil defense. The purpose is to secure money to purchase fire fighting equipment. The local department has not been allotted any equipment from a federal fund allocated for combating the effects of possible air raids.

Three weeks ago Charlie Collins of Philadelphia gave up boxing for a living and got a job as a shipworker. He was killed by a freight train while en route to work at Chester.

National Income To Break All Records; Retailers To Benefit

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright—1942—Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

GLOUCESTER, Mass., July 3.—Industrial employment is at a new all-time high as we come to another Independence Day. Hence national income should also break all previous records.

I estimate for 1942 that this should approximate $117,000,000,000. This is better than a 65 per cent gain over 1939. By national income I mean the income received by the people and not the income of the Federal government.

Savings and Taxes

Individual checking and savings accounts are rising. This means that funds are accumulating for future purchases. Taxes, of course, are headed sharply upward. Including the purchase of war bonds, for which the government has asked only 10 per cent of our income, savings and taxes will probably amount for about $31,000,000,000 of the people's money this year. This would leave $86,000,000,000 for food, clothing, rent, fuel, electricity and ice; house furnishings, church benevolences and charities; insurance, miscellaneous items, garbage pail and other forms of waste.

Until Congress decides what form the new income tax bill will take, no one can closely estimate the charge for individual taxes. Some form of monthly payments covering personal income taxes in advance, through deductions from salaries and wages, may be ahead. This would supplement the present sale of tax anticipation notes. Luxury taxes, real estate taxes (which may rise as a result of a decline in gasoline taxes if rationing becomes nation-wide), state, gift and other forms of taxes surely will take a large share of income this year than last. However, as the tax outlook is still uncertain, I have considered savings and taxes together in the above estimate.

Allocation of National Income

In my opinion there could be spent in retail shops this year approximately $69,974,000,000. Of this, $24,596,000,000 could go for food and the balance of $36,478,000,000 could be spent in department stores and other retail outlets for all other purchases except food. Churches and charitable gifts should take $5,160,000,000 or 6 per cent of our net income after allowing for all savings and taxes. The balance of some $19,866,000,000 will be split up among the other previously mentioned items of living costs comprising insurance, rent, fuel, electricity and ice.

Many families are properly taking advantage of rising incomes. They are intelligently spending their money. They are paying off mortgages, doctors' and dentists' bills and cleaning up overdue accounts with the garage man, grocer, druggist and other retailers. The decline in installment loans shows that most people are now paying cash for household appliances and personal effects. Receipts of motion picture theaters, restaurants and hotels indicate that people are also getting some enjoyment out of their money.

War-time Washington

I was in Washington during all of the last year and have spent some time there since World War II began. Except for the present crazy rush, the scenes of new bureaus, and the crowded transportation and housing, I cannot see much difference in the place. Politically, Washington remains unchanged and the executive branches of government have not altered. Washington continues to blow hot and cold. It is frightened and panicky one day; bold and optimistic the next day. Its state of mind translated into rules and regulations is clearly reflected in our people.

Washington is slapping on ceilings, priorities and restrictions as fast as the regulations can be thought up and printed. Much of this is admittedly necessary, but all of it is not. Of course, labor is not now available to manufacture so many consumer goods as in peacetime; but the manufacture of many civilian articles will continue. Substitutes will be found for raw and finished materials. Believe me, when I say that most of the consumers goods industry is going to be protected.

The cost of fuel, electricity, ice, insurance and rent remains about constant in good or bad times and takes about 23.1 per cent of our national income after taxes and savings. The government is encouraging more to be spent on food this year than ever before, which normally is about 23.6 per cent. Miscellaneous items, house furnishings, and clothing take approximately 27.3 per cent, but the latter two percentages do not include the garbage pail and other waste amounting to 15 per cent of the national income. Most of this waste is purchased originally in retail stores. Thus, 70.9 per cent of the national income, after taxes and savings, is mostly available for retailers. True, the metalwares, automobile lines and a few others must scamp around to offset priorities. However, by far the larger proportion of retailers will not only face a huge public buying power but will also have plenty of goods to sell. Hence, why worry?

Retailers should cheer up! I am not pessimistic over their outlook. Except for metal, rubberwares and radios they can make replacements of general stocks of goods without much difficulty. Substitutes will fill in for many articles which cannot now be manufactured. Retailers can still shop around for new products. Some items—such as 100 per cent woolen goods—if unobtainable here, can be imported from England. Consumers can continue to rely upon their customary sources of supply. A glance at the retail advertisements in your local paper should be sufficient to give a clue to the true picture. If merchants could not restock, would they now be offering goods at bargain prices?

What About Shortages?

It was not long ago that Washington was forecasting a paper shortage. Boy Scouts and housewives were urged to save every scrap. Now it is found that was unnecessary. Paper today is not as marketable as it was before the war! Remember how we were urged to go easy on cheese "so it could be shipped to the Allies." Now there is a surplus of cheese and we are urged to eat two slices with our apple pie! My guess is that from now on more restrictions will be eased up or entirely removed. Watch for a change in sugar rationing. Supposed shortages may well turn into actual surplus!

To curb vice, make it hard. There were no chain smokers when everybody had to roll his own.

Escapes in Blast

Pictured clinging to his teddy bear in the home of neighbors is 4-year-old Bobby Lyons. Four members of his family were burned to death and two others critically injured in their home in Huntington Park, Cal., when a fire broke out. The boy's father, Darwin Lyons, was showing his family how a small room in that home was supposed to be gas proof in the event of an air raid when gas tanks in the room blew up and the fire started. ## National Radiator Workers Presented With War Bond Flag

Superintendent E. L. Brundage Present At Ceremonies In Johnstown Wednesday

Superintendent E. L. Brundage of the New Castle plant of the National Radiator company, has returned from Johnstown, Pa., where he attended ceremonies on Wednesday when the "Minute Man" flag and certificate of award were presented to Edgar W. Longacre, vice president in charge of manufacturing, as a recognition of the fact that 100 per cent of the National Radiator company's employees are pledging payroll deductions for the purchase of war bonds. The presentation was made by Steacy W. Webster, associate administrator of the war savings staff of the U. S. Treasury Department.

"Minute Man" flags were also presented to representatives of the seven manufacturing plants and nine branch offices of the company. Mr. Brundage accepting the banner for the local plant.

Delay Departure Of Marine Recruits

Contingent Not To Leave On Monday As Had Been Announced—To Go Later

One again, Sergeant John L. Dean, Marine recruiting officer, has been forced to cancel the departure of local Marine recruits because of the sudden rush of men to enlist in the Marine corps in the Pittsburgh area. Since over 200 men enlisted in Pittsburgh during the first two days in July and the Marine quota for the Pittsburgh district for the month is 460, Dean was notified this morning that he could not send his men in until further notice.

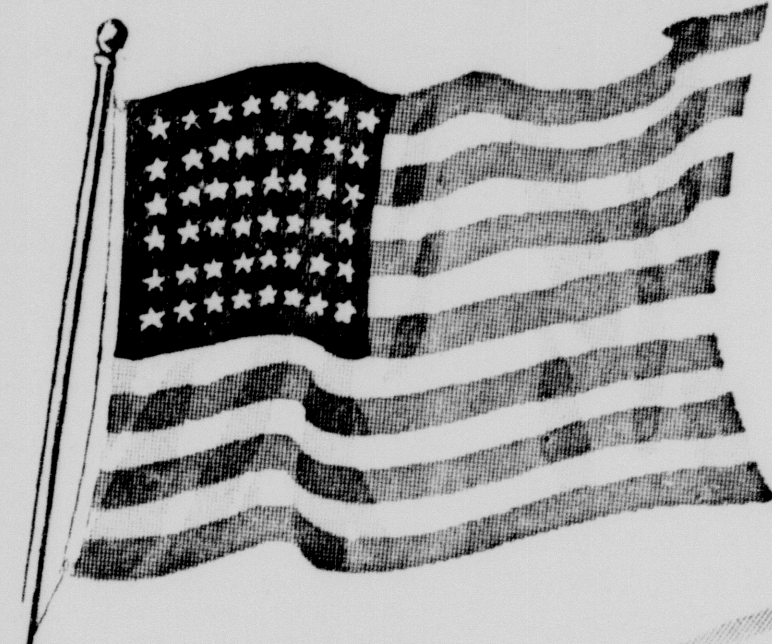

However, he did get permission to send 8 of the 40 men that were originally scheduled to leave Monday, July 6. The 8 chosen to go are from Oil City, because Sergeant Dean has not been able to send in any Oil City men since May. The local men will be notified by Dean just as soon as he can get a "go ahead" from the Pittsburgh office.

Dean also announced that one ex-service man, Harry P. Hubbard, 718 Wilmington avenue, had enlisted for West Coast guard duty in Class IV of the Marines. He left today for training in San Diego, Cal.

Recruiting Offices Will Open On Fourth

On the anniversary of the birth of Freedom in the United States, July 4, patriotic New Castle men will have a chance to show they still want to fight for their again-jeopardized freedom since all the recruiting offices will be open for business. The army and navy offices will be open all day and the marine office will be open until noon. The recruiting offices are on the second floor of the New Castle post office building.
